FORT BROWN

when the U.S. began to have trouble with Mexico over a bit of land between the NUECES and Rio Grande Rivers, in Tex., troops were immediately sent to Texas frontier. An Army of 4,000 men, under Gen. Zachary Taylor were stationed at Point Isabel, near the mouth of the Rio Grand. The first skirmish of the war occurred a few miles up river, when a detachment of Taylor's men were attacked by the Mexicans.

Major Taylor moved up the river and brought F. J. Brown, after which he returned & Peasant Isobel bearing Major Brown.
At the fort. On May 3, the Mexicans began a bombardment which they kept up until the 10th but the fort was bravely defended though
maj. Brown was killed.

MEXICAN WAR

Between Mexico and the U.S. It resulted from the Mexican outrages on American citizens, the recognition by the U.S. of the independence of Texas (1837) and its annexation by the United States (1845). The U.S. claimed the Rio Grande as the boundary of Texas. The Mexicans claimed the Nueces. The U.S. leaders were

generals ZACHARY TAYLOR, SCOTT and Franklin PIERCE. The Mexican leaders were:
Generals AMPUDIA, ARISTA, and SANTA ANNA
The war was closed by the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo

MONTEREY, Mexico

During the war between the U.S. & Mexico General Taylor marched against Monterey, a city of Mexico, which was strongly defended by the Mexicans. For 3 days the Americans conducted an active bombardment and the Mexicans were forced to surrender. The Mexicans were given 7 days to evacuate the city, leaving ammunition and supplies, together with the city fortifications, in the possession of the Americans.
